THE 2ND INTERNATIONAL URBAN FORUM 'DESIGNING THE FUTURE'

On November 20 and 21, 2019, the city of Makhachkala (the Republic of Dagestan, Russia), will host the 2nd International Urban Forum 'Designing the Future'.

The event will be held at 'Russia my history' historical park, (Makhachkala, I. Shamil avenue, 31G).

The main objective

To introduce the Republic of Dagestan to a unique urban development policy that will both respect the local cultural values and utilize the best practices adopted in Russian and European cities (while ensuring that such practices do not clash with the region's social and historical context).

Prospects

- To specify the strategic priorities for the development of cities and territories of the Republic of Dagestan and analyze the growth points and limiting factors;
- to discuss the vectors of development of region's cities and territories, as well as prospects for scaling the best projects;
- to create conditions for dialogue between public authorities, business and society and to increase confidence in the region development strategy being implemented;
- to provide young professionals with access to unique architectural and urban expertise;
- to evaluate the main directions for the development of the unique architectural profile of the cities of the Republic of Dagestan;
- to adopt evaluated algorithms for implementing the development concepts for the territories of the Republic of Dagestan, taking into account the distinguishing characteristics of the urban environment, sociocultural and historical factors, as well as economy management practice;
- to support improvements in the region's design process quality and the professional level of designers.

Main topics of the forum

1. Drivers for the development of Dagestan territories: principles and opportunities.
2. Drivers for the development of the Republic of Dagestan cities: new challenges and new answers.
3. Space organization strategies for the Republic of Dagestan: priorities and development models.
4. Space organization strategies for cities: institutions of trust and development of social capital.
5. Architectural strategies as means for human potential development.

Specifics of the agenda

- Creation of strategic priorities for the development of cities and territories of the Republic of Dagestan. Analysis of growth points and limiting factors.
- The forum allows to openly discuss the opportunities and challenges relevant for modern cities in general and the Republic of Dagestan territories in particular. The prospects for their development are considered not only in terms of economics and effective management, but also through the context of person – citizen – the main capital of the 21st century.
- During discussions and case sessions of the forum, the professional community of Dagestan looks to explore the best practices and experience of territorial development leaders through forming its own approaches to strategic planning and management.
